Something surprising, startling, marvelous and mastodonic, as the circus posters would say, came near happening at Columbia Park, Philadelphia, Saturday. The Washington Club nearly beat the Athletics. They came so near it, too, that there was no joke about it, although the 6,351 humidityproof spectators acted as if they wanted to

By strenuous efforts, however, Macks' men managed to pull the game out of the senatorial togas and the scare faded away in the trail of the thunderstorm which threatened to break up the contest.

Johnny Townsend, the "Delaware peach," had the Athletics guessing in the early in-nings, but the pressure of beating the for-mer champions caused John's pitching gear to get out of order in the seventh inning. His two besses on balls at that stage acted as a tonic upon the home players, and they straightened out Townsend's curves for f ur well-timed hits, which sent five runners over the rubber.

The Athletics, though, got a scare that The Athletics, though, got a scare that they won't get over in a hurry. "Rube" Waddell got back to town in time to twirl and his shoots were taken to kindly by the Senators. They hit safely in each of the first seven innings, and as it was usually the first batsman up that landed on the ball for a single or a double they put together three runs in the first six innings, and there were appeals from the blencherites for Mr. Mack to shift "Rube" off the scenery. Waddell, however, had all his cleverness when men were on the bases and it took errors and a mix-up by the Athletics it took errors and a mix-up by the Athletics on a peculiar play to let two of the visitors waddell. Seybold, M. Cross, Moran Coughlin and McCormick vied with each other in arousing the enthusiasm of the spectators. In the batting line Cassidy and Bruce distinguished themselves with three hits each. Mack's new Indian made himself solid with the crowd by banging out two singles and a double and stealing a base, besides making a sacrifice. Bruca scored one run himself and drave in three more, which made his afternoon's work of decided Orth's two-bagger and Clarke's triple gave the Senators their first run in the second inning. Coughlin opened the third with a two-bagger, and took third on Cassidy's sacrifice. Then there came up a peculiar play, in which Seybold, in trying to bluff Umpire Dwyer for a double play, put no one out. "Socks" balked a second in trying and lost a grand opportunity to get a reputation for quick thinking.

Donovan hit a little fly, which Seybold reached for and caught just as it touched the grass. After getting the ball and seeing Coughlin heading for third, "Socks" concluded to make a bluff that he had caught the ball. So Seybold tossed the ball to L. Cross, who was bewildered by "Socks" action. Lave finally ran over and touched third, but Umpire Dwyer decided that Seybold had made a pick-up. In the touched third, but Umpire Dwyer decided that Seybold had made a pick-up. In the confusion Coughlin scored and Donovan reached second. Hereafter "Socks" will have all such plays written out for him ahead of time by Harry Davis.

Hartsel scored the first run for the home team in the fifth on his single and Bruce's double, "Topsey's" great sprint beating Orth's throw to the plate by a foot.

McCormick scored in the sixth. M. Cross made a wild throw on his grounder and he went to third when Hoffman fumbled went to third when Hoffman fumbled Stahl's single. Townsend's fly to Hoffman scored McCormick.

Then the Athletics got very busy. M. Cross opened the seventh by receiving four balls.

Shreck singled and four balls to Waddell filled the bases. Hartsel flied to Cassidy.

Bruce's single sent in M. Cross and Shreck, and the spectators nearly had a conniption fit when Shreck made a mad plunge for the plate, and tried to make Lave Cross slide while the center fielder held the ball. Hoffman singled, and Waddell, not to be outdone by his battery partner, did a fancy bit of base running. "Rube" ran so hard that he had to take three wide circuits after crossing the plate to prevent the grand stand from getting in his road. Seybold sent Bruce home with a single, and the game was safe from the Senators' clutches.

WOMAN TENNIS CHAMPION. Miss Sutton Secured Title by Defeating

Miss Moore Miss May Sutton of Pasadena, Cal., won the championship of the United States in women's singles at Wissahickon Heights, near Philadelphia, Saturday, by defeating

Miss Bessie Moore in straight sets. 6-1,

There were many present who thought that the steadiness for which Miss Moore is noted might gradually wear down the Californian and enable the New Yorker to retain her championship, but it was not to be. As in the other matches, Miss Sutton gained a pronounced lead at the start, and continuing her powerful drives throughout the two sets soon had Miss Moore chas-ing to all corners of her side of the court in a desperate attempt to return the ball Game after game went to the western girl, and the only credit to which Miss Moore could lay claim at the end was the fact that she won one more game than any of the others who had opposed the new phenomenon.

In the final round in mixed doubles and In the final round in mixed doubles and the final of women's doubles Miss Moore obtained some satisfaction for her previous reverse, for with Mr. Grant for a partner in the first event and Miss Neely in the socond she succeeded in capturing the championship against Miss Sutton and Mr. Dallas and Miss Sutton and Miss Hall. Princeton Defeated in World's Fair Stadium Games

Although the Olympic national collegiate athletic championships, held Saturday in St. Louis, under the auspices of the world's fair Olympic games, early developed into a struggle for supremacy between Chicago and Princeton universities, the competition between the athletes representing those colleges was so keen and spirited that the largest crowd that has yet attended an athletic event on the world's fair grounds was amply repaid for braving the Chicago won the championship and the Walter B. Stevens' silver trophy, with a total of 70 points, defeating Princeton by 10 points. The scores for the other contestants were as follows: Michigan Agricultural College, 6; University of Illinois, 6; Colgate College, 5: Leland Stanford University, 4. Contestants from the following colleges were entered, but did not finish among the first four: South Dakota, Amherst, Christian Brothers' College of St. Louis and Missouri University.

While no records were broken, the competition in every event was unusually keen and the result of the meet was in doubt until the last two events had been decided. The pole vault was especially interesting, as Dole, the present world's champion, was pitted against Harry Moore of Princeton, in the final jumps. They could not ne-gotiate the bar at 12 feet after the legal number of trials, and it was decided to split the points awarded the first and second po-sitions, giving third place to Clark of Chicago. Princeton had counted upon winning this event, and the result had a decided effect upon the outcome of the meet.

Something near 17,000 people saw the New Yorks beat the Bostons Saturday. Dougherty was given a great reception and played gilt-edged ball. The New York Glants got a weak man from Brooklyn in Shortstop Dahlen. He is leading the league at the present time.

Orth Collins, the young Washington player, hit something like .360 while with New York and now has to go back to Rochester as there is no room for him with the Highlanders.

Manager Hanlon of the Brooklyns is said to have sent Jimmy Sheckard south to look for players. It is an easy guess that Sheck-ard is up in Pennsylvania looking over the independent players, several of whom class up high up high.

FOURTH'S TEAM WORK

ALL LEADER'S PLAYERS ARE WELL UP IN THE PERCENTAGES.

Wesleys Made Good Advance-Moun Vernon's Errors Nearly Equal Assists-General Work Good.

The Fourth Presbyterian Tigers are very much "It" in the Sunuay School Base Ball League. A single honor does not satisfy them. After these greedy ones had wrested the lead in the race for the championship from last year's champion Guntons, assumed the supremacy in ash wielding and achieved the distinction of having the "champion slugger" in "Vic" Bielaski, their claws still cling to the top rung of the team fielding ladder. And they have not only maintained this position, but in-Game after game went to the western creased their percentage from .939 to .944, these figures being made possible by unusually steady fielding for amateurs, their highest number of errors in one game having been four, while to them also goes the honor of having the only perfect fielding game up to the date the following averages were compiled.

Gunton's fielding has not kept pace with Gunton's fielding has not kept pace with its heavy batting, last year's champions tumbling from second to fourth place, for a loss of 17 points in average, while the Mt. Pleasant Congregationals and Foundry, with increases of 9 and 16 points, respectively, move up into second and third notches, the former from third and the latter from sixth position.

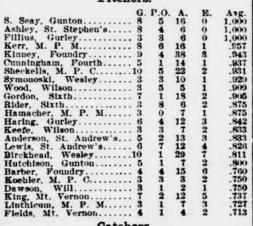

Although too far in the rear to overtake any of the other teams in team fielding. Wesley has made the best showing in points gained, having jumped from 762 to points gained, having jumped from 762 to 827. Mt. Vernon is now the only team in the 700 class, but advanced from 758 to 778 and, with the many changes in the personnel, should not only annex a larger percent-age of games than in the past, but also pull its fielding figures into the 800's.

The Mt. Vernon ball tossers have made almost as many errors as assists.

GREAT HERMIS BEATEN. Colonial Girl Won World's Fair Handicap Worth $50,000.

Before 50,000 shricking, yelling, hatthrowing, handkerchief-waving men and women Colonial Girl, C. E. Rowe & Co.'s grand-looking five-year-old mare, with a killing drag in the weights, Saturday at St. Louis lowered the colors of Hermis, the pride of the east. The race was the world's fair handicap of $50,000, the biggest prize ever put up in a handicap in this country. With his crushing impost of 130 pounds the grand son of Hermence ran a magnificent race. Off quickly at the starter's signal, with Jockey Redfern sitting in the saddle like a statue, Hermis dashed away in the lead of his field. The gap was three lengthe as they went by the stand the first time, and going up the backstretch it was widened to four lengths.

Colonial Girl, well in hand and ably ridden by Jockey A. W. Booker, was in second place. Passing the half-mile pole, after a distance of six furlongs had been covered, the mare began gradually to creep up. Foot by foot she gained, and dashing around the far turn she had lessened the advantage of the flying chestnut in front to three lengths.

At the three-eighths pole Colonial Girl seemed to falter, probably because she struck a bad place in the track, and it looked then as though the mighty Hermis had the race won. But once around the last turn the race immediately assumed a different aspect. As soon as the firmer footing was reached the mare began to forge ahead.
. Instead of cutting down the lead of Hermis by inches, she began to outstride him by feet, and at the furlong pole she had him hooked.

Up to this stage it looked as though Her-him hooked.

Up to this stage it looked as though Hermis had been running easily, but when the mare finally got to him it looked as though he was standing still, and Colonial Girl won easily by a good two and a half lengths. Hermis easily held the place by four lengths from Moharib, J. W. Schorr's three-year-old, a colt to which he was conceding but seven pounds on the scale. The others were fairly well bunched in behind Moharib, but, as far as first money was concerned, were never contenders. Witful, especially, ran disappointingly. The Chicago delegation, which was very large, played Hildreth's mare very heavily.

The race resulted in a distinctly St. Louis victory. It is the first time since racing has been a recognized sport at the mound city that a St. Louis man has won a big prize. Colonial Girl is principally owned by Otto Stifel, a St. Louis brewer, who started his racing career back in the days when that good colt Pop Gray was a two-year-old.

He was then a partner with John -W.
